TEXAS A&M

The Texas A&M Gymnastics Club is one of the oldest clubs in the history of the University. The club was formed in 1923 by non scholarship students who loved to tumble. Gymnasts of all levels of gymnastics, from first-timer to Elite are encouraged to participate.

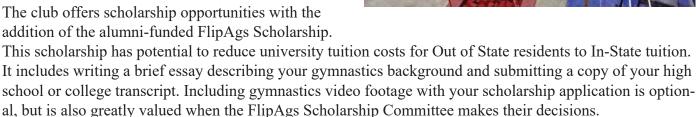

The Texas A&M Gymnastics Club competes under two organizations. Regular season meets are organized by the Texas Gymnastics Conference (TGC) and the annual national competition is organized by the National Association of Intercollegiate Gymnastics Clubs (NAIGC).

Currently, the Aggies are tied with their Longhorn rivals for the most men's national championships in the NAIGC, have the most women's national titles, and are the first and only club in the nation to have won both titles in the same year.

The Aggies are proud to be home to the largest and newest on-campus club facility in Texas. Built in 2013 in the PEAP building, gymnasts attending school in College Station enjoy the benefits of staying on campus for their college athletic careers. The gym has all regular men's and women's equipment as well as two foam pits, climbing ropes, and spotting belts.

The club offers scholarship opportunities with the addition of the alumni-funded FlipAgs Scholarship.

The team practices Monday through Thursday and Sunday evenings, totaling 13 hours per week. There is no full time coach present in the gym. However, many of the officers and members are USAG safety certified and several have coaching backgrounds. There will always be a minimum of one safety certified individual in the gym during scheduled workout hours.

Membership dues are $120 per year or $85 per semester. Individual passes are also available for $5 per visit. Membership dues help to offset the cost of meet entry fees, equipment maintenance, and facility cost, and all members receive a free Texas A&M Gymnastics Club T-shirt.
